ABOUT THE AUTHOR..... 47

Introduction

OK you want to play roulette and win, but you are fed up of sitting around the house staring at a computer screen. You like the razzmatazz of the live casino right? Remember you can not take your electronic devices in most casinos; therefore you need to have a system you can carry around in your head. This small handbook was written just for that purpose.

So, what will you find in here? Well, simply put, you will find a simple yet effective system that, for the price you paid for this booklet, is a bargain. I will not waste your time in this booklet by attempting to educate you on casino etiquette, and how the roulette game is played. For information on that, refer to my other book, "How to win at Online Roulette". I take it you do want to win money right? If your answer was otherwise, please put this book down and just go to any casino, and bet as you feel like. You will have a lot of fun with your money, and lose it all. If however, you want to come home with more than you left with, then, try this simple system that we are going to discuss.

What you need before you start

The first and most important tool you need is common sense. This often is not so common. Look, if the system says do a, b, c and you want it to work for you, simply do a, b, c as it suggests rather than x, y, z which it does not suggest. Do not drink too much alcohol and continue to play roulette, if you want to win. If you have the memory of a goldfish, and you cannot remember this system two minutes after learning it, then simply do not play roulette. If you disobey any of these rules, you should simply kiss your funds goodbye.

Money management and greed management

We will return to money management later, but for now let us look at greed management. If you entered the casino with $200, and after 5 hours you have $2500 profit, for the love of sanity, cash your chips and go home. DO NOT BE GREEDY. 100% is a great return. 1000% is an excellent return, 10,000% return is dangerously greedy. Quit whilst you are ahead. Aim to make 100% as quickly as possible using the system. After that, cash out what you came with, and never use it again that night. Now, with the profit you have left; aim to repeat what you just did, i.e. make 100% again. As soon as you have done this, cash it out immediately. And continue to do this every time you double your chips. Remember, even if you lose all your chips on the table, if you have cashed in chips and taken profit, never return this money to the table for chips. Doing so could have you playing the greed game. Remember, disciplined is the casino winner, and broke is the undisciplined player. If you cannot control yourself, take someone who can. When you double your chips, give it to this person to cash out and keep the cash safe for you. Select this person carefully, and make sure they are not greedier than you are, and that they do not drink too much that night, or run off with your money.

It is better to go to the casino, make a quick profit and leave, than to stay there for hours on end, trying to break the casino's bank. Someone's bank will be broken at the end of the night, and often than not, it will not be the casino's.

Only take cash and no cards to the casino. Why? Well you want to limit your risk. By only taking cash, you are limiting how much you can actually lose. If you do not have any more money or credit cards, how can you lose more? And please, do not borrow money from someone at the casino.

When you have credit/debit cards available to you, it is tempting to withdraw more funds, in the hope of making more, and replacing the borrowed funds before it is ever missed. This is the thought process of a greedy, uncontrolled gambler. If you think like that, simply restrict yourself to cash. By the way, make sure your car has enough gas or that you have a travel pass to get you back home, in case you blow everything but the shirt on your back (take a change of shirts if that will help).

Expectations

Some players have been playing roulette for years, and do not have a dime's worth of profit to show for it, yet they insist on setting a goal to be financially free, and quit their job, after using this system for a week. We all know it takes at least three weeks to do that. That last point was a joke by the way. It will not take you 3 weeks to replace your job income with this, or any system. Why is that? Well, it is not due to the system, it is due to the players. I have never met anyone who could faultlessly follow any system indefinitely. There is a name for people like that. Resistance is futile and they are Borg.

Yes, you can make a regular income from this, but by no means should it be your only income source. Try and diversify a little. You should aim to double your bankroll with this system every time you play, then quit for the night or session. A roulette system is like a knife, it will get dull and blunt with overuse. Give it a rest. Get refreshed and come back energised alert and sharp.

Enough of the preamble let us go straight to the system.
